THE RAW SERIES

What is The RAW Series? Think of it a bit like theatrical sashimi. Bold flavors, big ideas, everything you've come to expect from Interrobang Theatre Project - without the trimmings. We've stripped down the classic stage elements to put the story front and center. The RAW Series features passion projects and bucket-list productions spearheaded by our talented ensemble. In addition to our regularly scheduled plays, The RAW Series aims to bring concise, actor-driven theatre to the Chicago stage.

SARAH GISE has been a proud ITP company member since February 2015. She graduated from the University of Southern California (USC) with a BFA in Acting. She was previously seen in Interrobang's Fifth Season productions, Owners and Really Really. She is currently a company member with New American Folk Theatre (Chicago) and a member of Ensemble Studio Theatre (Los Angeles), with whom she won the LAWeekly Best Actress award for The Belle of Belfast in 2013. In February 2016, she performed The Amish Project with AtticRep in San Antonio, TX, and shortly after was invited to take the show to the Teatro Potlach FLIPT festival in Rome, Italy. Sarah was most recently seen in Interrobang's production of Still.

This production of The Amish Project was originally presented by AtticRep in San Antonio, Texas.
